To Staff and the Twin Rivers School Community,

As another school year concludes, I find myself reflecting on all the meaningful events and educational milestones we've shared since last August when classes began. First and foremost, I want to express a heartfelt thank you to our staff and families. Your dedication to our students, passion for education, and relentless commitment to excellence have been the driving force behind every success we've accomplished together.

From the graduation of nearly 1,450 seniors to providing a wide range of before and after-school enrichment activities to approximately 10,300 students through our Expanded Learning Programs, your efforts have truly made a difference.

Teams of people across the TR school community collaborate to make education successful and enjoyable for our students. We are honored and humbled by the trust families place in us to provide their children with the education that will set a positive trajectory for their lives. While families and students may be most familiar with their teachers, counselors, principals and others at the school sites, we know that a network of hardworking people keep our district humming, working tirelessly for the benefit of students.

Together, we have navigated difficult challenges and celebrated successes. Throughout it all, we remain grateful for the opportunity to work together on behalf of all students, and eagerly look forward to the bright future that lies ahead for our school community.

As always, it's an honor and privilege to serve as your superintendent.
