Community Advisory Committee

Twin Rivers is looking for interested individuals to service on the District Community Advisory Committee for Special Education.

Community Advisory Committees (CACs) are required by law and reflect the community they serve. They are comprised of a combination of parents, educators, representative of public and private agencies and individuals concerned with the needs of individuals with disabilities. The majority of CAC members must be parents of students residing in the District and the majority of these parents must be parents of students with special needs. Candidates are approved by their governing Board in accordance with the locally determined selections process.

You may find Special Education CAC Application on the Twin Rivers Special Education Website at <https://www.trusd.net/Academics/Programs/Special-Education/SELPA/index.html>

Submit applications to the Special Education Department by September 19, 2023
